

The Legend of Sunset Corridor

Teaching Artists:

Michael Konrad and Ailisha Goodwin-Dancy

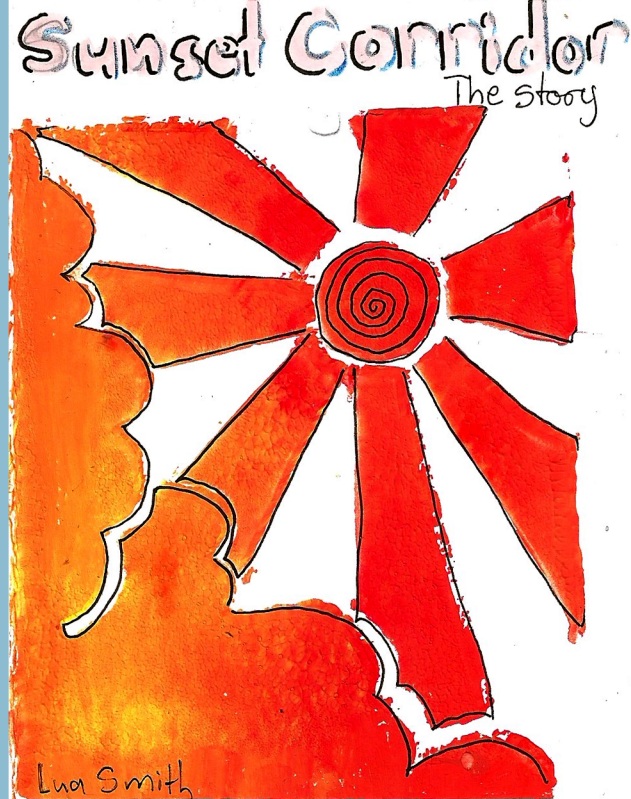

Guest Artist: Alumbra Artist Collective

Student Artists:

Alana Caldwell, Anastasia Pate, Annabelle Clarista Chandra, Camille Parker, Cavon Bennett, Delayla Foxworth, Jozelyne Moise Vargas,
Kayla Belton-Thompson,
Lua Smith, Malik Edwards,
Phoenix Hazzard-Tillman, Sharesse Murphy

Project Manager: Alaina Ewins

© 2023 City of Philadelphia Mural Arts Program/Lua Smith

The Sun and Moon loved each other greatly. Their love would cast over the sunset corridor every day. One day the Sun stopped radiating its love for the Moon disrupting the balance between night and day.

The Sun was being controlled by Nimbus an evil sheep shaped cloud.

Nimbus appeared and dimmed the Sun's light making her love for the Moon fade forcing the Moon into darkness.

The Ocean called on two known heroes.

Before being fully trapped and alone in the dark, the Moon took the opportunity to call on the Ocean.

Lumos, a powerful bat and Stellaris, a mouse constellation that can change its form. The two traveled for days until they arrived at the Sunset corridor.

Lumos and Stellarus fought off Nimbus.

The two defeated Nimbus and the Sun and Moon shined bright together and lit the Sunset Corridor once more.

The End

